Volume 04, Issue 01, July 2019

FOREWORD by EDITOR-in-CHIEF

We are very pleased to inform the readers that Journal of Science, Technology, & Innovation Policy and Management (STIPM Journal) Vol. 4, No. 1, July 2019 edition is now ready for public reading and views. STIPM Journal is an online research journal managed by the Research Center for Science, Technology, and Innovation Policy and Management, Indonesian Institute of Sciences (RC-STIPM-LIPI).

The journal provides scientific information that needed mostly by the research scholars as well as STI policy makers. As a peer reviewed journal, STIPM provides free access to research thoughts, innovation, and original discoveries. In this issue, we bring together research findings on development and adoption of science, technology, and innovation policy and management from Malaysia and Indonesia.

First article is composed by Wati HERMAWATI entitled Technology Transfer from Public Research Institute to Community: A Case Study. This research article examines the technology transfer mechanisms into practical applications of the community. The success of technology transfer to community itself were demonstrated by the increased ability of recipients namely SMEs and farmers to replicate the technologies, increased their production, enlarge their market as well as increased new knowledge, skills, and productivity.

Second research article entitled A Scientometric Study on Biodiesel Development in Indonesia. This article is presented by Mesnan SILALAH. The article describes the results of scientometric studies in the energy sector, especially in the field of biodiesel in Indonesia by using a mixed method through content analysis and in-depth interview. Quantitative research uses bibliometric basics and content analysis, where text mining is triangulated with the results from in-depth interview with several prominent Indonesian researchers in this field. Content analysis is conducted by topic modeling method by analysing the papers' abstract. This article reports on the results of a scientometric study, based on publications indexed in Scopus in the energy sector, especially in the field of biodiesel in Indonesia.

Nor Ashikin Mohamed YUSOF et al. present an article entitled Theoretical and Practical Gaps in Policy Making Process in Five Organizations. This article reports case studies involving five national policy documents and internal policies at several key governmental department and organizations. The findings from the study enables the researchers to make a comparison between the theory of policy making and the practice of policy making in Malaysia. The findings show that there is still a huge gap between theory and practice in policymaking and policy studies in Malaysia.

The fourth article with the title Innovative Strategy to Disseminate Science Information to Policymakers is presented by Azmi HASSAN. There exists a huge gap between science and technology discovery and the formulation of public policy mostly due to the poor understanding on how to disseminate the news not only to policymakers but also to the general public. To bring accurate, relevant information from the front lines of research to the policymakers, this paper describes how innovative strategies that use the media as the conduit are formulated in more systematic ways.

Dian KUSUMANINGRUM et al. present an article entitled Structural Equation Model: Intention to Use Mobile Banking of Bottom of Pyramid Customer. The purposes of the study are to identify the predicting factors influencing the intention to use mobile banking and empirically validate a model explaining the behavioral intention to use it, especially on the bottom of pyramid (BOP) segment. The model used was structural equation model (SEM) based on partial least square (PLS). The data used for developing the model was based on a survey to 100 BOP households. The results show that the variables that have the highest significant effect on BOP's customer intention to use mobile banking are involuntary barriers, followed by perceived risk, and attitude. This result can be further used by researchers and mobile banking providers to evaluate the existing mobile banking services to improve its contribution in providing better market penetration and more appropriate financial services for BOP and ultimately financial inclusion in Indonesia.

Lastly, Karlina SARI et al. present an article entitled Indonesia in Functional Food Industry: Market or Player? This paper presents the overview of functional food industry in Indonesia. It analyzes the prospect of Indonesian functional food industry from demand, supply, and regulation perspective. The result of this study is Indonesia should have a good prospect as both the market and the player in functional food industry. Currently, baby food and toddler are Indonesia's biggest market of functional food for baby formula milk and baby food. Another functional food market segment prospective to be penetrated is elderly who have bigger risk of disease, such as hypertension and arthritis

The journal is indexed by Google Scholar, ISJD, IPI, DOAJ, BASE, and OCLC World Cat, which makes wider journal dissemination. We would like to express our immense gratitude to our international editorial board members, reviewers, and authors for their contribution to this issue. We hope this publication will prove useful for readers and contribute to the enhancement of science, technology, and innovation. We expect that STIPM will always provide a higher scientific platform for authors and readers with a comprehensive overview of the most recent STI Policy and Management research and development at the national, regional, dan international level.
